ANNE FRANK

A HISTORY FOR TODAY

Special Exhibit | November 11 - December 14
Downtown Newark Location, Upper Level

by Julia Walden, Executive Director

In 2024, as part of our Veterans Project, the Library observed the 80th anniversaries of key World War II events such as D-Day and the Battle of Saipan. We now bring our World War II commemorative programming to a close with our final event, Anne Frank: A History for Today, which observes the 80th anniversary of the liberation of the Auschwitz concentration camp in January 2025. This exhibit shares the story of Anne Frank against the background of the Holocaust and World War II. Over 30 descriptive panels trace Anne's family history, the rise of the Nazi party, the Franks' experience in hiding in the Secret Annex, and the legacy Anne left behind.

Anne Frank: A History for Today is curated by the Anne Frank Center at the University of South Carolina, the official U.S. partner of the Anne Frank House in Amsterdam and the only partner site in North America. We are honored to serve as a host location for the exhibit, which has traveled all over the world and is presented over 200 times a year in schools, museums and libraries.

Volunteer docents will be on hand to help guide visitors through the exhibit, which runs November 11 to December 14 on the Upper Level of LCL's Downtown Newark location. Extra copies of The Diary of Anne Frank are available, as well as recommended reading lists and special programming.

Anne Frank's diary, with 30 million copies sold in 70 languages, is an extraordinary first-hand account of the devastating consequences of bigotry, war and genocide. It is also a testament to resiliency, empathy and hope. Anne's personal story and enduring legacy teaches us crucial lessons about the power of words and their ability to transform individuals and communities—80 years ago and today.

Anne Frank: A History for Today has been made possible in partnership with The Licking County Foundation.

Author Visit:

Andrew Welsh-Huggins

Columbus native and notable crime and mystery author, Andrew Welsh-Huggins, visits LCL's Downtown Newark location to discuss his newest book, Sick to Death, on November 9 at 11am. Registration is required.

Welsh-Huggins is the award-nominated author of the Andy Hayes Private Eye series featuring a former Ohio State and Cleveland Browns quarterback turned investigator. He is also the editor of the Columbus Noir anthology and author of the standalone crime novel The End of The Road, which Kirkus called "A crackerjack crime yarn chockablock with miscreants and a supersonic pace."

LCL Learning Tool Highlight

World Book is an excellent resource that makes reliable information accessible to people of all ages. There are various quizzes and coloring pages to help with learning. LCL librarians love to use this resource for homework help and to show teachers and homeschool groups various ways to access a particular subject.

This resource is easy to navigate, has ready-made material, and ideas to spark your learning. Access World Book via the Services and Research tab on LCL's website: lickingcountylibrary.org

The Collective:

Collective representations are ideas, concepts, categories and beliefs that are the product of a social collectivity. They are not the work of individuals but emerge from social life. Located at LCL's Downtown Newark location, we invite you to immerse yourself into this space.

Life During World War II

November

Discover artifacts and items from the Licking County Historical Society to gain insight into life in Licking County during World War II. Then, head to the Upper Level to explore the special exhibit, Anne Frank: A History for Today, and learn about life in Nazi-occupied Amsterdam.
